Washington Alliance For Life

Honoring Human Life from conception to natural death

Greetings,

Graham Fair (Pierce County Fair) August 10th-13th Special thank you to the following for manning the booth: Ann Marie, Wes, Elaine, Lisa, Parker, Mark & Sarah, Steve & Teri, and Eleanor, (wrapping babies).

Washington Alliance for Life gave away:

60 twelve-week life touch baby models - 30 Bibles - "life is precious" bracelets – balloons - pencils – and candy!! Many conversations, Life, Faith, Encouragement, prayers for specific needs, thumbs up, etc!!

Testimonials:

Carenet was amazing when I had my son they helped me with resources and diapers. Janey Sumner

"Step by step is a great organization for anyone needing help through their pregnancy". - Lisa

A couple told the story of their 15 yr old daughter who was pregnant. Her boyfriends parents pushed for abortion, after the baby was born they wanted the baby to be adopted. Kathy became the advocate for her daughter...now 15 years later they give God the Glory for saving their granddaughter. The "Father" wants shared custody. Kathy

"At 23 years old a single mom of two I was again pregnant. I went in for an abortion. On the examination table waiting for the doctor to come in and do the procedure. I heard God telling me not to go through with it. I told the nurse. They came back in and told me I didn't belong there and told me to get out. I had my son in 1990. Raised him and now have two handsome grandsons. Thanks to God's voice". - Connie

"Carenet gave me resources that I needed as a teen parent". - Lisa

A little boy, his sister and their Nanny came up to the booth. The little boy said "Is this a baby?". I said "yes" and proceeded to show them the stages of life.

Josh and his mom came by the booth. Josh was born at 24 weeks old and weighed just over a pound. Josh's mom told the story of how she fought with the doctor's who wanted to let Josh die and call him a "miscarriage". Josh's mom fought to get him cared for in the NICU and the wonderful people who helped her and Josh through his first weeks of life outside the womb. Today, Josh is an active adult, thanks to a mom who refused to give up on her baby.
